

Summer 2024

IN THIS ISSUE

- 75 Air-Britain Affairs
- 76 Power to the (Flying) People
- 77 Evolution of November Charlie, Part 2
- 87 Aerial Stunts à la Parisienne
- 91 Beechcraft Duke
- 94 Bookshelf
- 95 RAF Vampires Part 12
- 99 Karhulan Ilmailukerho Museum
- 101 Pembrokes for Sweden
- 105 Readers' Photos
- 111 Crash Sites 1944/45
- 115 Kennedy Giant
- 120 GAMA Deliveries, 2023
- 121 Halifax Haulers
- 123 EAA Convention Argentina
- 125 D.H.66 Hercules
- 133 Looking back at . . . The Gloster Javelin, Part 1
- 135 General Aviation News
- 137 AERO 2024 Friedrichshafen
- 139 Khormaksar Camera Corner, Part 3
- 141 Feedback
- 143 Who's Who in Air-Britain
- 144 Berlin 2004

THE AVIATION WORLD EDITORIAL TEAM

Editor: Paul Jackson
Paul.Jackson@Air-Britain.com

Deputy Editor: Rod Simpson
Rod.Simpson@Air-Britain.com

Assistant Editors: Steve Mitchell
Steve.Mitchell@Air-Britain.com

Graham Salt
Graham.Salt@Air-Britain.com

Civil Editor: Robert Swan
Robert.Swan@Air-Britain.com

Cover Picture: Beechcraft Duke B60 N181BD (c/n P-563) departing Friedrichshafen after a visit to the 2009 Aero exhibition. A late-production example – the last was P-596 – it bears signs of upgrading, including winglets and rear fuselage strakes. The Duke story begins on page 91 (Paul Jackson)

